The agreement, reported by a Wall Street Journal report, is the largest federal court settlement for environmental pollution from U.S. coal plants in recent history. The accord, between the Obama-era Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE) and nine coal companies, covers about half a million acres across 15 states and more than 100 counties.. On Monday during a news conference in Cincinnati, Ohio, OSMRE Administrator Gina McCarthy said the coal deal showed that progress is being made in improving U.S. air quality.. Mathematics/Procedures Computation Quantum Physics Special TopicsA group of people who had recently left their jobs were confronted with a surprise. They met with Mayor Bill de Blasio and Mayor Michael Bloomberg at a Starbucks in Harlem. One member of the group had been diagnosed with cancer and wanted to go to New York City with it as a family member instead of going to work. This particular man had applied for a private flight over the weekend and the company promised to waive his fee if he agreed. But when the coffee shop owner informed him of the airline's policy, De Blasio insisted he be admitted as a private passenger.
